

Abstract Submission Guidelines

Background – PHA’s 2019 PH Professional Network (PHPN) Symposium in Washington, D.C. on September 5-7, 2019 will feature a poster hall in conjunction with its medical education activities. Abstract submissions are invited in the areas of basic science, clinical science and case studies. Authors of the top five abstracts will be invited to present a lightning round presentation during the accredited poster hall session on Friday, Sept. 6.

Format – Abstracts should be no more than a single page, excluding space for tables and figures when formatted using:

- Times New Roman font
- Minimum font size 11
- Single spaced rows
- One-inch margins

Content – The online submission form requires:

- Title of Abstract
- Authors, Institution and Institution Location (City, State or Province and Country)
 - List all authors in the order you would like them to appear in the program book.
- Purpose (optional)
- Background
- Methods
- Results
- Conclusions

Submission

- The deadline for abstract submission is May 24, 2019.
- Authors should submit abstracts to the PHPN Symposium Committee via the online form. PHA no longer accepts email submissions.
- Please designate whether the abstract should be considered for the Clinical Science, Basic Science, or Case Study category.

Accreditation – For the first time, CME/CE will be available for attendance and participation in poster sessions. Contact information, an updated CV, relevant disclosures and a signed continuing education agreement will be collected for the presenter of each accepted poster. To expedite this process, PHA will collect this information after submission and before authors are informed of their abstract’s acceptance or rejection.

Notification – Abstracts will be evaluated by the PHPN Symposium Committee. Acceptance will be sent to the main point of contact by email along with additional information about the poster presentation format and selection of oral presentations. The text of the accepted abstracts will be printed in the program book provided to Scientific Sessions attendees.
